A simplified version of pinball, a classic among arcade games, can be built with the new fischertechnik construction kit. Things get really exciting when the ball is shot onto the playfield. Which route will it take? Will the obstacles affect its path?

The game can be played alone or with multiple players. The goal fields can also be designed in different ways, either with pre-printed points or with empty pre-printed fields with room for creative scoring systems.

fischertechnik's Pinball construction kit is a thrilling game for multiple players. The latest fischertechnik addition contains 89 parts and is suitable for children aged seven and up.
